Introduction

Dear Parent / Carer,

Please find enclosed a reading list for each of your child's GCSE subjects. Experience tells us that wider reading can make all the difference in enabling students to access the higher grades at GCSE. We would encourage you to ensure that your child does as much reading as possible to support what they cover in lessons.

Please do not hesitate to contact your child's teacher in the first instance should you need any further advice.

Mathematics

Books / Newspapers

The Mathematics of Ciphers by S.C. Coutinho

Interesting exploration into the different types of codes and CYPHERS used throughout history. Is a very good GENERAL MATHS BOOK, covering elements of basic number theory, physics (potential of photon money!), statistics (frequency Analysis) and computing.

In Code by Sara Flannery

A History of Mathematics by Carl B. Boyer

Infinity: The Quest to Think the Unthinkable by Brian Clegg

This is definitely one of the better books on the subject. A chronological biography of the concept of infinity, from Greeks to present day. Says MrMathsGenius.

E, the Story of a Number by Eli Maor

The Emperor's New Mind by Roger Penrose

The Mathematical Universe by William Dunham

The Wonders of Numbers by Clifford Pickover

From Here to Infinity by Ian Stewart

The Art of the Infinite: Our Lost Language of Numbers by Robert Kaplan

What is Mathematics? by Richard Courant, Herbert Robbins and Ian Stewart

Flatterland by Ian Stewart

Fantastic take on a 19th century book about different geometries, starts by explaining 4d by exploring the way our 3d world would look to a 2d or 1d person!

The Number Devil: A Mathematical Adventure by Hans Magnus Enzensberger

An entertaining book, and certainly one for younger people looking for some interesting, yet accessible, mathematics.

Art of the Infinite by Kaplan

More mainstream, targeted at expanding mathematical awareness. Certainly, a good read for those who have perhaps gained Mathmophobia! MrMathsGenius.

Imagining Numbers: Particularly the Square Root of Minus Fifteen by Barry Mazur

Mazur takes the scenic route to complex numbers, via a deep exploration of their history and a brief tour of the science of the imagination. A readable book.

A Very Short Introduction to Mathematics by Timothy Gowers

Tiny, incredibly dense book written by a Fields Medallist. It provides a great jumping off point for further independent reading around maths, and a glimpse of the character of 'real maths'.

Linear Algebra Step by Step by Singh.

It has complete solutions to all the problems in the book.
